About Workshop on Critical Care Nutrition

The Society for Clinical Nutrition and Metabolism (IAPEN) is an organization in the field of parenteral and enteral nutrition and promotes basic research, clinical research, advanced education, organization of consensus statements about clinical care and quality control.

The workshop on critical care nutrition is hosted and organised by IAPEN – Jaipur Regional Centre on 11th September at Department of Home Science, Shri Jagdishprasad Jhabarmal Tibrewala University, Jhunjhunu-Churu Road, Vidyanagari, Dist Jhunjhunu, Churela, Rajasthan 333001

In order to promote Advanced Education in Enteral and Parenteral Nutrition and to facilitate the academic pursuits of more number of Nutrition Support Clinicians, Clinical Nutritionists, Nurses and Pharma from the educational institutions, hospitals and health care settings, IAPEN announces Workshop on Critical Care Nutrition at 26 different locations throughout India, Nepal and Bangladesh.

Nutrition is an integral part of healing and maintenance of health. The workshop was designed for medical, nursing & nutrition professionals who were interested in learning nutrition assessment tools, early enteral nutrition, approaches to parenteral nutrition, immunonutrition, disease specific nutrition for fighting against Iatrogenic Malnutrition. The workshop also contains hands on training on Nutritional calculations, Enteral Diet, Parenteral Nutrition Products handling and mixing and Enteral Nutrition Devices.

This workshop provides the most up-to-date critical care nutrition practice recommendations; latest nutrition assessment tools; and the knowledge and resources you need to take your critical care nutrition practice to the next level. Nutrition is an integral part of healing and maintenance of health. Poor nutritional status in pre, peri and post-operative critical care patients leads to less than optimal outcomes. Nutrition intervention is necessary for treatment of critical care patients. This workshop of IAPEN will provide such a forum for multi-disciplinary interaction on Critical Care Nutrition.

Workshop Theme is “Recent updates in Critical Care Nutrition – Challenges and solutions”

The workshop is a part of Lifelong Learning initiative of IAPEN
Shri Jagdishprasad Jhabarmal Tibrewala University is approved by Rajasthan State Government. Act 2009 Vide F2(5) Vidhi/2/2009. It was started by Rajasthani Seva Sangh Mumbai. The university is in Vidyangari, Jhunjhunu-Churu Road, Jhunjhunu.

In the beginning, the university started undergraduate courses in four streams of engineering — B.Tech. (Computer), B.Tech. (Mechanical), B.Tech. (Civil), B.Tech. (Electronics & Communication) along with BBA, MBA and B.Sc.(IT). In 2011, diploma in Engineering and Bachelor in Physical Education (B.P.E.) were added.

In July 2012 the university started basic and job-oriented new courses. These are B.Sc. and M.Sc. in Food Technology, Biotechnology, Biomedical Instrumentation, Electronic Instrumentation, Home Science, Microbiology, Remote Sensing and GIS, Industrial Chemistry, Chemistry, Botany, Zoology, Physics and Mathematics, BBA and MBA in Pharma, Biotech, Security Management, Marketing, Human Resources and Finance, B.Com.(Honours), M.S.W., B.A., and M.A. in English, Home Science, Geography, Education, Public Administration, History and Economics, courses on pharmacy — D.Pharma, M.Pharma — and physical education courses such as B.P.Ed. and M.P.Ed.

There are 24 teaching departments: history, political science and public administration, economics, botany, zoology, pure and applied chemistry, environmental studies, remote sensing and Geo Informatics, foods and nutrition, microbiology, computer applications, population studies, commerce and management studies, law, education, pharmacy, physical education, yoga and human consciousness, entrepreneurship & small business management, strategic studies and information sciences. Shri JJT University is a Wi-Fi enabled campus which provides high bandwidth speed to all the offices and departments of the University, boosting research and developmental activities in the University by facilitating the students, research scholars and faculty to access the web even after regular college hours. The development of State-of-the-Art infrastructure and technical facilities has been a continuous process. It is our endeavour to provide updated facilities to our students where they can get practical exposure to the subjects taught and an opportunity to experiment with and apply what they have learnt in theory. All the Labs & Clinics of Faculty of Engineering and Technology, Faculty of Pharmaceutical Sciences, Faculty of Applied Sciences, Faculty of Computer Application are well designed and well equipped with all the required equipments. Language Labs are held regularly to help students improve their diction, tone as well as expression.

About IAPEN Lifelong Learning Initiative

The aims of IAPEN and its collaborating organizations like ESPEN, NESPEN and other sister PEN Societies are to encourage the rapid diffusion of knowledge and its application in the field of Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition or, more broadly, Clinical Nutrition and Metabolism in hospital settings. The IAPEN Lifelong Learning Initiative provides stimulating, congenial, and varied opportunities designed specifically for lifelong learners in advanced clinical nutrition research. In order to promote lifelong learning in basic and advanced clinical nutrition and to facilitate the academic pursuits of more number of clinical nutritionists, doctors, dietitians from the educational institutions, hospitals and health care settings, The Society for Clinical Nutrition and Metabolism (IAPEN) announces various distance learning courses.

The present workshop is a part of Advanced Training on Clinical Nutrition and is based on the third module “Critical Care Nutrition” Course.

Learning Objectives

- To understand the nutrient requirements of patients in critical care.
- To assess nutrition status in critically ill patients.
- To know the clinical impact of immunonutrition in critical care patients.
- To learn provision of nutrition support in patients with complex clinical conditions.
- To be able to calculate nutrient needs and formulate nutrition care recommendations/goals.

Indian Journal of Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition

Publish papers in Indian Journal of Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition

Provisional scientific topics include:

The Indian Journal of Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition publishes research articles, communications, and reviews on all aspects of basic and applied nutrition. It presents up-to-date, concise, critical reviews of key topics in parenteral and enteral nutrition science advancing new concepts and hypotheses that encourage the exchange of fundamental ideas on nutritional well-being in humans.

Authors interested in publishing papers can mail to info@iapen.co.in. Selected papers will be reviewed in the afternoon session of the workshop for possible publication in the journal.

Guidelines for preparation of abstracts: Author instructions can be downloaded from http://www.ijpen.com

Abstract Submission: All abstracts can be emailed to iapenmeet@gmail.com and the acceptance will be intimated via email.

Important dates:

- Last date of submission of paper: September 1st 2017
About Jhunjhunu, Rajasthan

Jhunjhunu is a town in the state of Rajasthan, India and the administrative headquarters of Jhunjhunu District. It is located 180 km away from Jaipur, 220 km from Bikaner and 240 km from Delhi. The town is famous for the frescos on its grand havelis. Khetri Mahal, known as Wind Palace, inspired Maharaja Sawai Pratap Singh of Jaipur that he was so intimidated by this unique structure that he built the grand and historical Hawa Mahal in 1799, is located in Jhunjhunu. The Rani Sati temple is also located in Jhunjhunu.

It is true that houses are made out of bricks and stones for people to live in. However, in some cases, they also create wonderful poetry. Jhunjhunu is one of the many cities in India where opulence has given rise to architectural heritage that inspire nothing but admiration in the minds of viewers. In every lane of this unique city one can witness pages of history come alive with all its glories. While a tour of Jhunjhunu generally begins with a visit to the Rani Sati Temple, the havelis here demand equal attention. They were built by rich merchants or banyas who came to the city on the invitation of Thakur Sardul Singh and flourished under his patronage. The architectural grandeur as well as frescos on the walls of these havelis shows that these merchants were not only rich, but had an artistic bend of mind. While many of these havelis have become heritage hotels, some are still lived in by the members of the family. Other than havelis, there are many beautiful temples located in different parts of the city. Among them, Rani Sati Mandir located in the heart of the town is especially significant. It was built in the memory of Narayani Devi, who many believe was the incarnation of Devi Durga. Bihari Ji Temple, Laxmi Nath Temple and Captain Henry Forester’s Radhakrishna Temple are also very famous. It may not be out of place to mention that Captain Henry Forester was a British commander, who lived in Jhunjhunu for many years. Apart from this Radhakrishna Temple, he also built mosques, mazaars and secular edifices. It is to be remembered that Jhunjhunu was under Muslim rule for nearly three hundred years. Consequently, the town also has a number of mosques, mazaars and dargahs. Among them, Makbara of Nawab Samaskhan, Makbara of Nawab Rohilla Khan, Kamruddin Shah Dargah, Captain Henry Forester’s Jama Masjid and his son’s Majaar are worth visiting. Among all the mosques and mazaars, Kamaruddin Shah’s Dargah is most significant. It is located at the foot of Kana Pahar. The Dargah was built in 19th century around the tomb of the Muslim saint Kamaruddin Shah. It is actually a big complex containing a mosque, a madrasa and a mehefilkhana. Religious feasts are still held in this mehefilkhana. It was once bluish in color and was richly decorated with frescos. Fragmented paintings can still be seen in its courtyard. A pyramid like structure within the complex is probably the grave of the infant son of Major Forster, who died in 1841. From the roof top one can have a good view of the town.
